POSSIBLE QUESTIONS RE RAISING ISSUE OF INTERNATIONAL COMMUNISM OR RED COLONIALISM IN UN

1. Would the exposure of International Communism in the UN implement the President's objectives as expressed at Geneva and Philadelphia?

2. Would the exposure of International Communism in the UN support the principles of the UN charter to preserve peace and would such exposure be in any way inconsistent with the rights or legitimate aims and aspirations of any member nation of the UN?

3. Should the disavowals of Bulganin at Geneva and Kaganovich at Moscow (November 6) regarding International Communism, and the communist claim that communism is advancing spontaneously throughout the world, aided only by western imperialism, and that it will triumph in the twentieth century, go unchallenged?

4. Would the exposure of International Communism activities in the Middle East or other areas furthering the aims of the USSR and its expansion be for the best interest of the United States and world peace?

5. Would the exposure of International Communism that has subdued a number of once independent nations and other areas to the rule of Moscow, and<sup>15</sup> presently penetrating to the areas of the free world with a like objective, be likely to counter the communist agitation of the colonial issue?

6. What is the comparison between communist activities <sup>in</sup> ~~and~~ various areas of the world and American activities in Hawaii and Alaska, or Western European activities in any of its colonial areas?
